

ANNAPOLIS CRUISE 2007 EPPRECHT
SEPTEMBER 12 – 17, 2007

Thursday 9/12/07

16 boats assembled in Annapolis Harbor, most on moorings but several arrived late and were unable to pick up a mooring. The official change of command from the Baltimore Cruise to the Annapolis Cruise took place during the Captains party on Eagle which had 32 hardy sailors. We were pleased to welcome Jim and Mary Campbell to the group during the party. No Coast Guard Inspection for lifejackets so we all had a great time with wonderful weather.

Friday 9/14/07

18 of the group joined a private tour of the Hammond Harwood House on Maryland Ave at 1100. It was a great history lesson and a very interesting house. Symmetry was the word of the day. Following the tour we moved up Maryland Ave for a great meal at Galway Bay. After lunch the group went separate ways for shopping and sightseeing. At 1800 we met at the Charthouse in Eastport for a wonderful dinner. At the dinner Com-Tom welcomed new members Larry Rovin and Carolyn Rugg from Whisper to the club.

Our after dinner excitement was three hours of recomputing checks. All is well that ends well.

Saturday 9/15/07

Since the game did not start until 1700 we had the morning free. We assembled at the Class of 65 tailgate at 1530 and enjoyed a pregame burger and beer. The Brigade of Midshipmen marched on at 1640 and we had a high flyover. It was an exciting game against Ball State, unfortunately Navy came out on the short end of the score. Back to the tailgate to rehash the game.

SEPTEMBER 12 – 17, 2007

Sunday 9/16/07

A number of boats got underway early to return home while the real sailors made their way down the bay to anchor off Galesville. We had dinner at Pirates Cove restaurant in our private room. Great food.

Monday 9/17/07

Early morning exit to lots of wind for the trip home. Into the waves until we got out into the bay then we had the wind with us.

The following are the total boat nights. A spread sheet is attached with the supporting details.
