

TANKER SNOBALL 2007 DUTTON

Five boats met in Saw Mill Cove off LaTrappe Cr. on Mon. 10-22 after some exhilarating sailing in 12-18 kt winds from the SW. Allegro (faux Sovereign) rafted port side with Wayward Wind, later to be joined on stbd side by a mysterious power boat bearing Mike & Pam Epprecht. Makani, Salt Shaker and Ellis Island anchored nearby. 12 contented sailors congregated on Wayward Wind in the well protected and tranquil cove shared with a large flock of Canada geese. All enjoyed the Captain's party, warm temperatures and a beautiful sunset, after which Mike & Pam departed in their newly acquired power boat.

The weather forecast for Tues called for small craft warnings Tues PM thru Wed noon plus rain on Wed, so at 0800 Tues we cancelled the second nite and all headed home sailing in 15-20 kt winds still SW.

Boats qualifying for one night:

Wayward Wind

Sovereign

Salt Shaker

Makani

Ellis Island

Sally & Bill

Wayward Wind