

Ahoy!

Put this date on your schedule now! First Saturday after Labor Day!! That is when the Oyster Boys will have their annual "Cruise in Concert" in Shaw Bay in 2012. Most of you missed it this year, but those who didn't enjoyed a great afternoon.

As expected, the 4PM concert started around 4:35PM with two other boats rafted to the Boy's mother boat "Yes". Around 5PM the bass player arrived and completed the 4 boat raft that stayed together until the next morning.

The weather cooperated with no rain, and the sound system was fantastic. About 100 boats anchored for the 2 hour hootenanny that featured down home stories of the Bay and beyond. A real treat!

Aboard "Salt Shaker" the bottomless Margaritas never hit bottom, even though a great effort when into trying to achieve that goal. The appetizers were ample and the foredeck was crowded until the sun started to set in the west. Walley & Jane arrived around 6PM to join in the festivities by rafting up and dispensing individually wrapped desserts of Utz finest chips, fritos, and pretzels. A great way to end the evening.

In the morning the fog was on the deck with about 75 feet of visibility. "Yes" declared, "Not to worry, I have radar", and disappeared into the mist with 3 boats still rafted to her sides. By 10:30 the fog lifted and all CSSMers departed for new ports of call.
