

Very Impromptu Cruise

Cruise Captain: Tod Engelskirchen

Several of us thought we were going to do a cruise starting on June 23, 2017. It was not to be. The weather was forecast to be awful. Prudence directed that the event be canceled. Resourcefulness however won out. We decided to go out Saturday and Sunday for a weekend on the water.

On June 24, 2017 Karaya and Fiscal Stray met in Granary Creek for a very pleasant evening on our boats. It was a motor trip. The creek was well protected and the evening was wonderful. The two boats rafted up and had cocktails on Fiscal Stray followed by a very nice dinner on Karaya - thanks to Jayne who provided chicken salad for all. It was warm but all enjoyed a nice calm evening.

On June 25, 2017 after a leisurely breakfast both boats moved - motor sailed to the mooring field at Annapolis where we each took a mooring. It was Sunday evening and lots of mooring balls were open. Anne and Jayne went shopping in the afternoon while Irv and Tod read so as to become more enlightened than we were already. We all met for dinner at the Backyard Bar and Grill for a very nice meal. The harbor calmed down and we slept well.

On June 26, 2017 both boats returned to the Miles River Yacht Club with a wonderful sail nearly all the way home.

Spontaneous Impromptu Cruises can be low stress and very enjoyable. We all had a wonderful time.

Fiscal Stray - 2 nights
Karaya - 2 nights.

Respectfully submitted
